

2021 HCCP of the Year –Thomas Stagg

Written by Missy Covington, VP of Compliance, Raymond James, Affordable Housing Investments

I was pleased to learn that Thomas Stagg was chosen to be the 2021 Housing Certified Credit Professional (HCCP) of the Year. I have known and worked with Thomas for many years. Luckily, he does not really show his age, so neither of us must acknowledge exactly the number of years that truly represents.

I have always respected Thomas' knowledge and really enjoy listening to him speak on hot topics in our industry. Thomas' communicative skills are second to none as he possesses the ability to effectively deliver an explanation of industry rules and regulation. His approach is very engaging, and he can address a multitude of compliance topics. Thomas has a way of making compliance fun. He is a great representative of the HCCP designation.

As a group, we represent the best of our industry, and Thomas certainly fits those criteria. Congratulations, Thomas, on this well-deserved award!
